

Adjusting Webcam Video Settings in Skype

If the picture or the video image from your webcam is unclear while using it with Skype, you may like to adjust the video quality settings directly from Skype.

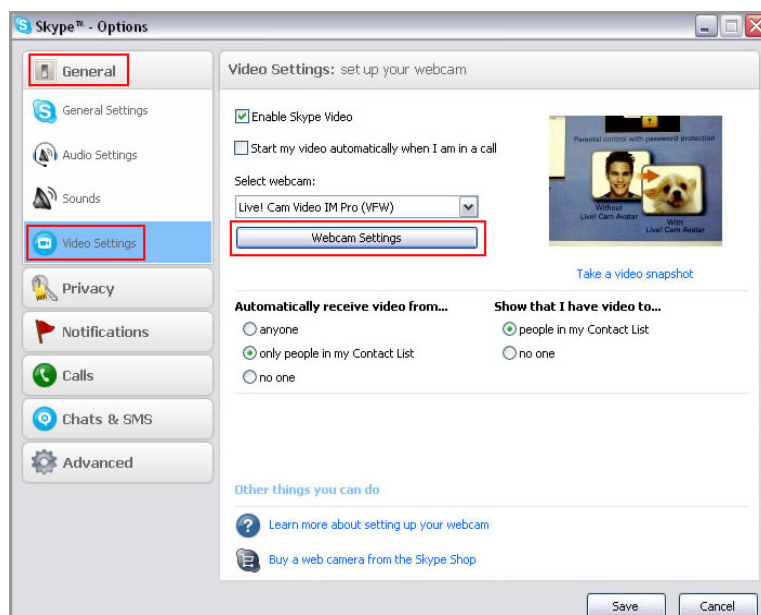

1. Launch Skype

2. Click Tools on the top toolbar and select Options...

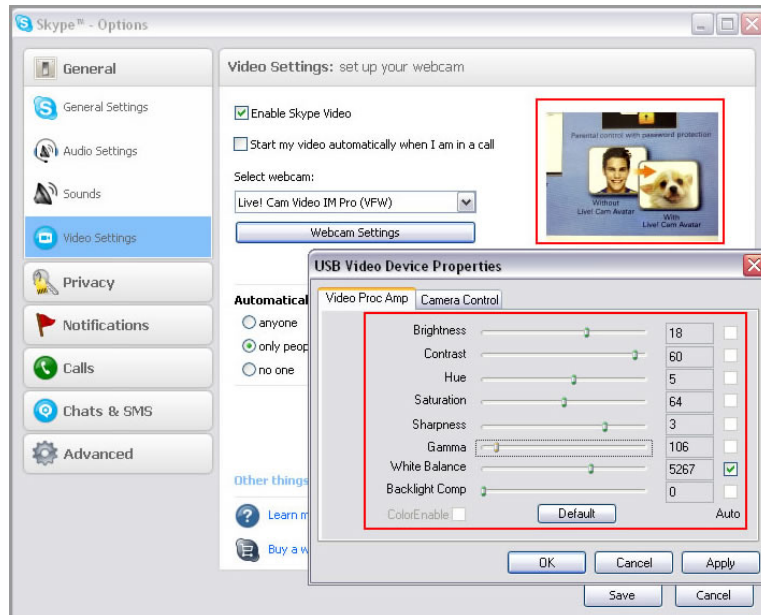

3. Click General on the options window that appear and select Video Settings. Once the options for video settings are displayed, select Webcam Settings

4. Here, you can change video quality controls such as brightness and contrast. As you slide the meters to increase or decrease the values of each control, the changes will be instantly reflected in the live view of your webcam in the box. When you are happy with the changes, click OK

If the webcam comes with manual tuning such as the Creative Live! Cam Video IM Pro, as used in this example, do try adjusting the tuning as well to get an even clearer picture.
